Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 34, Defendant American Red Cross Blood Services Southern California Region ("ARC") hereby answers, responds and objects to Plaintiff's First Set of Requests for Production of Documents and Things to Defendant American Red Cross ("Request for Production").

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

All responses that follow are made subject to this preliminary statement. The responses appearing below are made subject to and without waiver of (1) all questions as to the admissibility as evidence of the response made, any documents produced or to which reference is made or the subject matter of such documents; (2) the right to object to other discovery directed to the subject matter of the requests or the responses; and (3) the right to make additional objections or seek protective orders.

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

1. In stating in these responses that it will produce documents responsive to a particular request, ARC is not representing that any document actually exists, but only that it would make a good faith effort to locate documents in its possession, custody or control that are responsive to the Request for Production. ARC reserves the right to use at the time of trial, such additional documents that may be discovered subsequent to the date of its initial production.

2. ARC objects to any document request in which the terms "evidencing," "concerning," "reflect(ing)," "support," "relate," "relating" or "regarding" appears. Those terms are vague, ambiguous and overly broad and require subjective judgment on the part of ARC and its attorneys, and would require a conclusion or opinion of counsel in violation of the attorney-client privilege, and the attorney work-product doctrine. Without waiving this objection, ARC will use its best efforts to produce documents responding to each request.

3. ARC objects to any particular item in the Request for Production if it seeks production of documents protected by the attorney-client privilege or the attorney work-product doctrine. Such documents shall not be produced and any inadvertent production thereof shall not be deemed a waiver of any privilege with respect to such documents or of any attorney client-privilege or any attorney work-product doctrine which may apply. Further, all objections stated herein on the grounds of the attorney-client privilege or work product doctrine are intended to apply to all documents and information that is privileged or protected, either in this litigation, or by virtue of any prior legal proceeding.

4. ARC has not completed its discovery in this action and has not completed its preparation for trial. The following responses are given without prejudice to the production of any evidence subsequently obtained or documents discovered. Accordingly, ARC reserves the right to change any and all responses herein as additional facts are ascertained, analyses made, legal research completed, and contentions become evident.

This Preliminary Statement and General Objections are incorporated by reference into each of the responses set forth below.

Dear Ms. Shadi:

Defendant American Red Cross' responses to Plaintiff's Demand for Production of Documents, Set One and Plaintiff's Request for Admissions, Set One have not as yet been received. I granted you an extension until March 25, 2008, as a result all objections have been waived. Please inform me when I may expect the outstanding responses.

Two weeks ago, I served you with two deposition notices. Today, for the first time, you informed me that the two witnesses are not available for the dates set for deposition and that both witnesses no longer reside in California. You have failed to provide me what dates are available for Vice President of Human Resources, Robert Browning or his address so that he may be served with a subpoena. Defendants' failure to provide professional courtesies is noted.

I will hire a private investigator and locate Robert Browning and serve him with a deposition for a date I am available. I will do so by the close of business tomorrow. As a result, you need to provide my office, in writing, your or Mr. Klepetar's availability to travel to Arizona for the deposition in mid to late April. If I do not receive a communication from your office, I will assume any date is suitable.

Very truly yours,

Dear Ms. Shadi:

This letter will represent Plaintiff's meet and confer regarding Plaintiff's Demand for Production of Documents, Set One and Plaintiff's Request for Admissions, Set One served on Defendant American Red Cross ("ARC") on February 12, 2008. In particular, yesterday during our telephone conversation, I explained to you that Plaintiff will be moving on a Motion to Compel unless we receive further responses and documents responsive to the Request for Production of Documents.

This letter will detail the disputed discovery and reasons why further responses and production of documents should be forth coming. I anticipate filing the Motion to Compel at the beginning of next week and therefore request once you have reviewed this letter to contact me so that we can have our telephone conference.

I. PLAINTIFF'S REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS, SET ONE:

Defendant's Response to Request No. 1:

ARC does not employ any individual by the name of Marc Jacobson. To the extent this request seeks documents referenced in Marc Jackson's Performance Improvement Plan dated February 22, 2007, ARC objects to this request on the grounds that it seeks documents which are not relevant and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. ARC further objects to this request on the grounds that it seeks to invade the privacy of third parties to this action. ARC also objects to this request on the ground and to the extent it seeks documents which are protected by the attorney-client privilege or attorney work product doctrine.

Reasons why defendant's response is deficient.

Marc Jackson waived his right of privacy as to this document at his deposition (Page 148) you attended on January 30, 2008. As a result, no right of privacy will be violated. Please provide a further response and the responsive documents immediately.

Request for Production No. 2:

The personnel action forms from January 2000 until January 1, 2008, evidencing any and all hire dates for persons who had felony convictions, including but not limited to the documents evidency [sic] Angie Turner's rehire as a nurse.

Defendant's Response to Request No. 2:

ARC objects to this request on the grounds this it is overly broad as to time and scope and unduly burdensome. ARC objects to this request on the grounds that it seeks documents which are not relevant and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. ARC also objects to this request on the grounds that it seeks to invade the privacy of third parties to this action.

Reasons why defendant's is deficient.

Defendant fails to detail in any way why the request is burdensome. (See Munoz-Santana v. United States, 742 F 2d 561 (9th Cir. 1984) As explained by Marc Jackson, personnel action forms are a one page document. Plaintiff will agree to a protective order as to the name of the individual with felonies so their names will only be used and disclosed in this litigation. The information is highly relevant as it may exhibit disparate treatment which will be probative of discriminatory animus.

Request for Production No. 3:

Any and all documents concerning ARC's consideration of plaintiff Brian Setencich as a candidate for the Communications Manager position, including but not limited to e-mails and memoranda.

Defendant's Response to Request No. 3:

ARC objects to this request on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous as to the phrase "documents concerning ARC's consideration." ARC further objects to this request on the ground and to the extent it seeks documents which are protected by the attorney-client privilege or attorney work product doctrine. Subject to and without waiving any of its objections, ARC will produce documents in response to this request.

Reasons why defendant's response is deficient.

The request is not vague or ambiguous. Please provide a privilege log as to documents withheld pursuant to privilege. Please provide the documents immediately.

Request for Production No. 8:

Any and all documents concerning Marc Jackson's request(s) for reasonable accommodation as a result of his medical condition, including but not limited to letters approving or denying his request.

Defendant's Response to Request No. 8:

ARC objects to this request on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous as to the phrase "documents concerning ... request(s) for reasonable accommodation." ARC further objects to this request on the ground and to the extent it seeks documents which are protected by the attorney-client privilege or attorney work product doctrine. ARC also objects to this request on the grounds that it seeks to invade the privacy of a third party to this action. Further, ARC objects to this request on the grounds that it seeks documents which are not relevant and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

Reasons why defendant's response is deficient.

Marc Jackson waived his right of privacy at his deposition you attended on January 30, 2008. Therefore, there are no privacy rights to warrant withholding production. There is no ambiguity in the request. The information is highly relevant as to is probative of discriminatory animus.

Request for Production No. 9:

All writings concerning the Defendant's personnel policies or procedures of ARC, including but not limited to hiring and discrimination policy.

Defendant's Response to Request No. 9:

ARC objects to this request on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous as to the phrase "writings concerning the Defendant's personnel policies and procedures." ARC also objects to this request on the grounds that it is overly broad as to time and scope. ARC further objects to this request on the ground and to the extent it seeks documents which are protected by the attorney-client privilege or attorney work product doctrine. Subject to and without waiving any of its objections, ARC will produce documents in response to this request.

Reasons why defendant's response is deficient.

The request is not ambiguous. You may limit the information to January 2004 to the present. Please provide a privilege log to all documents withheld based on privilege and produce the remaining responsive documents immediately.

Request for Production No. 11:

Any and all documents that support Defendant's contention, Plaintiff was not the most qualified candidate for the Communications Manager position reporting to Marc Jackson.

Defendant's Response to Request No. 11:

ARC objects to this request on the grounds that it assumes facts not in evidence and is vague and ambiguous as to the phrase "was not the most qualified candidate."

Reasons why defendant's response is deficient.

Plaintiff was not hired. Someone else was. Plaintiff assumed the person hired was more qualified. If defendant contends plaintiff was the most qualified candidate then say so in the verified further responses.

Request for Production No. 16:

All documents reflecting or relating to any of Defendant's reasons for not hiring Plaintiff.

Defendant's Response to Request No. 16:

ARC objects to this request on the ground and to the extent it seeks documents which are protected by the attorney-client privilege or attorney work product doctrine. Subject to and without waiving any of its objections, ARC will produce documents in response to this request.

Reasons why defendant's response is deficient.

Please provide a privilege log as to all documents you withhold based on alleged privilege. Please provide the remaining documents immediately.

Request for Production No. 20:

Any and all witnesses' statements, interview notes, declarations, affidavits, and/or factual accounts regarding Plaintiff including, but not limited to, such document generated during any and all investigations involving Mark Jackson's complaint(s) of discrimination including, but not limited to, investigative documentation.

Defendant's Response to Request No. 1:

ARC objects to this request on the grounds that it is vague, ambiguous and unintelligible. ARC further objects to this request on the ground and to the extent it seeks documents which are protected by the attorney-client privilege or attorney work product doctrine.

Reasons why defendant's response is deficient.

Please provide a privilege log as to all documents withheld based on privilege. As to the remaining responsive documents, please produce immediately.

II PLAINTIFF'S AMENDED REQUEST FOR ADMISSIONS FROM DEFENDANT STEVE BROWN, SET ONE:

Request for Admission No. 1:

You have recommended the hire to work for ARC to individuals from January 1, 2002 to the present with felony convictions.

Defendant's Response to Request No. 1:

Steve Brown ("Brown") objects to this request on the grounds that it is vague, ambiguous and unintelligible. Brown further objects to this request on the grounds that it is overly broad as to time and scope. Subject to and without waiving any of his objections, and interpreting this request to ask whether Brown has recommended that American Red Cross Blood Services Southern California Region hire any individual, between January 1, 2002 to the present, whom he knew had been convicted of a felony at the time of making the recommendation, Brown responds as follows: Deny.

Reasons why defendant's response is deficient.

Your re-framing of the request is unacceptable. ARC is ARC. I did not ask whether or not he knew the individual had a felony in the request. Please respond immediately to the request propounded.

Sabrina L. Shadi
BAKER & HOSTETLER
Brian Setencich v. American Red Cross, et al.

Request for Admission No. 3:

You interviewed Brian Setecich [sic] for the position of Communication Manager even though you were aware of his felony conviction.

Defendant's Response to Request No. 3:

Brown objects to this request on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous. Subject to and without waiving any of his objections, Brown responds as follows: Brown admits that he was aware that Setencich had been convicted of a felony at the time he agreed to meet with Setencich, as a courtesy to and at the request of Marc Jackson.

Reasons why defendant's response is deficient.

Your re-framing of the request is unacceptable. The request is interviewed, NOT meet. The request does not discuss courtesies or requests. Please respond immediately to the request propounded.

Request for Admission No. 4:

During the time period of Brian Setencich's application process with ARC, there was no written policy prohibiting the hire of individuals with felony convictions.

Defendant's Response to Request No. 1:

Brown objects to this request on the grounds that it is vague and ambiguous. Subject to and without waiving any of his objections, Brown responds as follows: In June 2005, when Setencich submitted his application, American Red Cross Blood Services maintained policies with regard to performing background checks, which would include searches for felony convictions as allowed under state and federal law. American Red Cross Blood Services' written policies speak for themselves and will be produced in response to the plaintiff's requests for production.

Reasons why defendant's response is deficient.

The request is not ambiguous. The request does NOT request information about background checks. I do not care whether ARC's policies speak for themselves. Please respond immediately the request propounded.

III. SUMMARY:

I granted you the extension to respond to the subject discovery with the understanding that you would be responding to it in good faith and I would receive the verified responses and documents on March 25, 2008. You provided blanket objections and no documents on March 28, 2008. I will not make the same mistake again. If I do not receive verified further responses and the subject documents by the close of business on Friday, I will move the Court to order ARC to do so.

I am available all week to discuss any issues you may have.

Re: Setencich v. American Red Cross, et al.
Client-Matter No. 077975-000039

Dear Ms. Telfer:

We are writing to address the issues raised in your meet and confer regarding our clients' responses to Plaintiff's Demand for Production of Documents, Set One and Plaintiff's Requests for Admission, Set One.

Request for Production No. 1:

As we discussed when we spoke on the phone about this request, the investigation of Mr. Jackson which is mentioned in his February 22, 2007 Performance Improvement Plan involved employees other than Mr. Jackson whose privacy we and Mr. Jackson do not have the right to waive. In addition, you have not addressed American Red Cross Blood Services Southern California Region's ("ARC") other valid and timely objections, including that this request is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. As you know from the e-mails produced by Mr. Jackson, ARC had determined on July 1, 2005 and reiterated on February 21, 2006 that it would not hire Mr. Setencich. We're hard pressed to see the relevance of an investigation of Mr. Jackson's conduct which took place in 2007 and a decision not to hire Mr. Setencich which was made more than one year prior.

Request for Production No. 2:

The request for personnel action forms from January 2000 until January 2008 is overly burdensome because it will require ARC to review the personnel files for every one of its employees who has worked for ARC at any time during the past 8 years.

Request for Production No. 3:

Regarding the privilege and work product objection, please note that we do not always use this objection because we have located privileged responsive documents but because the vague and ambiguous form of the question allows for the potential interpretation that you are seeking privileged documents and documents created in the context of litigation. In any event, if privileged documents exist, we will produce a privilege log.

As for non-privileged documents concerning ARC's consideration of Mr. Setencich as a candidate, please clarify whether you want ARC to reproduce documents we already served with ARC's initial disclosures or to separately produce documents such as e-mails which Mr. Jackson previously produced.

Request for Production No. 8:

Please clarify whether you want ARC to separately produce documents which Mr. Jackson previously produced.

Request for Production No. 9:

Copies of ARC's hiring and anti-discrimination policies are attached. Regarding a privilege log, you will have to clarify what you are looking for. For instance, if you are seeking all of ARC's communications with legal counsel regarding any updates or revisions to its internal policies or procedures, this is not a reasonable request.

Request for Production No. 11:

No one was hired into the same position that Mr. Setencich applied for which is why ARC does not have responsive documents.

Request for Production No. 16:

As mentioned above, we do not always use the privilege/work product objection because we have located privileged responsive documents but because the form of the question allows for the potential interpretation that you are seeking privileged documents and documents created in the context of litigation. In any event, if privileged documents exist, we will produce a privilege log.

As for non-privileged documents reflecting or relating to any of ARC's reasons for not hiring Mr. Setencich, please clarify whether you want ARC to reproduce documents we already served with ARC's initial disclosures or to separately produce documents which Mr. Jackson previously produced.

Request for Production No. 20:

I will need to discuss this request with you directly to ensure I understand what exactly you are asking for.

Jill Telfer
April 4, 2008

Request for Admission to Brown No. 1:

This request did not make sense as written. In order to make a good faith effort to respond rather than just object to the form of the question, Mr. Brown provided his interpretation of what the question was asking and responded. If you intended to ask a different question, please clarify what that question is. You state in your letter that you did not ask whether or not Mr. Brown knew the individual had a felony, but how could he know if he recommended to hire someone who has a felony if he doesn't know whether or not the person had a felony conviction?

Request for Admission to Brown No. 3:

Again must ask for clarification regarding what you're seeking in this request. In good faith, Mr. Brown provided a response rather than just giving an objection. What do you mean by "interviewed"? Do you mean was a formal employment interview set up by human resources as a part of ARC's usual hiring process or something different?

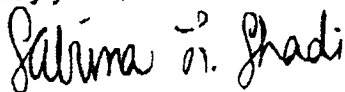

Request for Admission to Brown No. 4:

We respectfully disagree that this response is flawed based on the request presented. Again, Mr. Brown provided a response despite the problems with the request. Among other things, the request is ambiguous because you have not defined the time frame of Mr. Setencich's "application process." Based on the varying allegations in Mr. Setencich's FEHA complaint and his court filings as well as the documents produced by Mr. Jackson, it is likely that we would not necessarily define this phrase the same way.

In closing, I have reviewed the confirming fax your assistant sent to my assistant and it makes no mention that you expected to receive the verified responses and documents in your office on March 25. As we previously discussed, if I had known this was your expectation, I would have had no problem scanning and emailing these items to you when I served the responses by mail on March 25.

I have to be in court on Monday morning, but otherwise am generally available after 11 on Monday or anytime Tuesday morning for a call to discuss these issues further. While I don't believe that a motion to compel is necessary or appropriate, if we are not able to reach a consensus, I believe the local court rules call for (or at least allow) us to contact the magistrate judge to request a conference call to discuss any issues before filing motions.

Very truly yours,

Re: Setencich v. American Red Cross, et al.

Dear Ms. Shadi:

In response to my efforts to resolve our discovery dispute including my letter of April 1, 2008 and my phone call to you, on Friday evening at approximately 8:00 p.m. you sent a four page letter. Although I would rather have a verbal discussion with you, since that does not seem likely, I will send you this final letter attempting to resolve our issues.

Request for Production, No. 1:

Your objections are not timely since you did not provide my office the discovery pursuant to my professional courtesy on March 25, 2008. As to the objections, the document is relevant since any attempt to take adverse action against Marc Jackson is probative of a discriminatory animus. In particular, Brian Setencich is alleging that because of his association with Marc Jackson who suffers from a disability, he was not hired. As a result, any discriminatory actions against Marc Jackson supports Brian Setencich's claim. As Marc Jackson testified at his deposition on January 28, 2008, he was singled out and subjected to an unwarranted investigation. Although, he has requested copies of the investigation, they have been denied.

If, in fact, you believe there are privacy rights of individuals who were interviewed, redact those individuals names at the present time and thereafter, we will seek a court order if we determine that we need to know the identity of those witnesses. Your argument that the e-mails of July 1, 2005 and February 21, 2006 show there was no intent to hire Mr. Setencich, is an argument that you will need to make to the jury or the judge in a motion for summary judgement. However, Plaintiff has the right to receive discovery that is probative of his theory in the case. As a result of your of your failure to provide this necessary documentation, I will be filing the motion to compel this week. Please provide any and all available dates after May 15, 2008, for the hearing.

Request for Production, No. 2:

You position that the request will require ARC to go through all of its personnel files during the last eight years is without merit. Companies and organizations of ARC's magnitude have human resource software that specifically will identify, through a report, this information. If you still contend that only means to be able to receive this information is going through each and every employee's personnel file, please submit a declaration for someone with personal knowledge to support your claim.

Request for Production, No. 3:

You have taken the position that you raised the privilege objection, not because there are any documents responsive to the request which are privileged but merely so that the privilege would not be waived. Although, it is Plaintiff's position that you have waived all objections, you need to identify in a further response that no documents have been withheld pursuant to privilege. Further, you request that I clarify what I want ARC to produce that has not already been produced. Since I do not represent ARC and do not work for it, I do not have personal knowledge of what documents exist and which do not. Suffice it to say that I want ARC to produce any and all responsive documents that they have not already produced.

Request for Production, No. 8:

You requested clarification of whether or not I want ARC to separately produce documents of what Mr. Jackson previously produced. Since such documents may have further identifying information such as handwritten notes, please produce them. In addition, ARC should have its own documents in response to Mr. Jackson's request and therefore those should be produced. Again, I want any and all responsive documents.

Request for Production, No. 9:

If it is Defendants' position that the only responsive documents are the policies that you faxed over at 8:20 p.m. on Friday evening April 4, 2008, a further verified response needs to say so. As for the privileged log, such is required if documents are withheld. The reason for it is so that counsel has a basis to move to compel, and provides the Court notice as to what documents have been withheld. As a result, the request is reasonable and should be done.

Request for Production, No. 11:

You have explained that no one was hired in the same position that Mr. Setencich applied and as a result there is no responsive documents. A further verified response should make that statement so that it is clear.

Request for Production, No. 16:

You again are requesting clarification if I want ARC to reproduce documents that Mr. Jackson previously produced. As I explained above, please do so as your documentation may have additional notations on them. Again, suffice to say that I want any and all responsive documents.

Request for Production, No. 20:

You state that you need to speak with me to clarify what exactly I am requesting. The discovery request itself is straight forward. In addition, I have been available for over a week to discuss the same and you have not contacted me. I feel as though you are stonewalling my efforts for discovery and do not know what else to do other than file a motion to compel.

Request for Admission, No. 1:

You state that the request is as written does not make sense. I believe otherwise. I believe that any reasonable person would be able to read the request and understand what it is saying even if it is not perfect grammatical form. You request clarification. If Mr. Brown recommended the hire of a person with a felony, whether or not he learned that they had a felony at a later date is of no consequence. Specifically the request is, as of today if he is aware that he recommended the hire of an individual that he knew at the time or later learned had a felony conviction. I do not know how to be any more clear.

Request for Admission, No. 3:

On Request No. 3 when I used the word interview, I mean interview. It is undisputed that Plaintiff Brian Setencich was looking for a job. It is undisputed that Marc Jackson wanted to hire Brian Setencich. If Defendants want to take the position that the "meeting" between Mr. Brown and Brian Setencich was not an interview, then go ahead and do so. But please respond to the request as to whether or not Mr. Brown interviewed Brian Setencich.

Request for Admission, No. 4:

You attempt to argue that the request is ambiguous as to the time frame that Mr. Setencich went through the application process, however you have information from both Marc Jackson and Brian Setencich as of these dates. I can not be any more clear and therefore believe that again you are just delaying producing this discovery.

Summary

You stated in closing that you do not believe a motion to compel is necessary, but that if we are unable to reach a consensus you believe under Local Rules that we are to contact a Magistrate. Please read Local Rule 37-1(a) (b). In particular, I have met the requirements of 37-1(a) and that I have written to you twice, attempted to speak with you to discuss these issues and to attempt to resolve them. As this juncture, I do not believe that Defendants have met their requirement under 37-1(a).

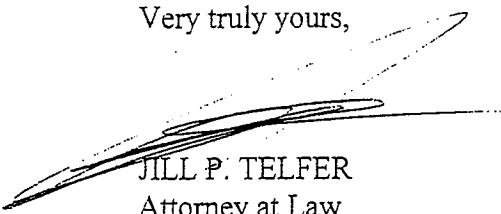

As to 37-1(b), I do not believe calling a Magistrate to discuss these issues will resolve them. In particular, the Judge or Magistrate, will need to have background information including what was said in deposition and the discovery requests themselves. I do not believe a Judge or Magistrate attempting to resolve these issues verbally, prior to seeing anything in writing, will be able to do so. I believe that phone conferences are more appropriate dealing with deposition discovery disputes or straight forward ones. There are over ten responses to discovery that Defendants have refused to respond to and therefore I believe that a motion to compel is most appropriate.

If you want to further discuss the issues, you are welcome to call me. Since I have made numerous attempts to resolve these issues, I believe that we are unable to come to a resolution without Court intervention. However, you are welcome to call me if you believe I am inaccurate.

Please let me know whether or not there are any additional documents that you will be producing. In your discovery responses that were received by my office on March 28, 2008, you said that the documents will be forthcoming. Please let me know when I should expect them.

MARK JACKSON,
having been first duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows:

EXAMINATION

BY MS. TELFER:

Q. Would you please state your name for the record?

A. Marc Jackson.

Q. Mr. Jackson, I introduced myself earlier. My name is Jill Telfer, and I represent Bryan Setencich in this matter.

Have you ever been deposed before?

A. Yes.

Q. On how many occasions?

A. At least three.

Q. Since you've been through this process before, may I dispense with the admonitions or do you want me to go over the ground rules just to refresh your memory?

A. I'll dispense with it.

Marc Jackson

(Exhibit No. 34 marked for identification.)

BY MS. TELFER:

Q. Mr. Jackson, did you receive this performance improvement plan from Steve Brown?

A. Yes.

Q. And was there an actual meeting in which this document was discussed with you?

A. Yes.

Q. Were you surprised by it when you first received it?

A. I was surprised at the allegation, but prior to that for like a month, staff coming into me saying that HR was conducting this investigation of me, and they were -- this is their words, not mine, and they were trying to twist their words around, and they would say something one way and they try to say it, and they go, no, I didn't mean that, and they were so concerned, a number of them even went to HR and said, I would like to see my statement and they said they had no right to see the statement, and so -- so then at this meeting I said, you know, I didn't do this stuff. You know what I mean? One of the things is like, you know, is like when I talk loud, I can't -- one of my -- when I was

1 sick the first time, I cannot -- it's weird, but
2 I cannot measure how loud I'm talking. I can't
3 do it for some reason. I can hear okay, but I
4 can be talking -- I don't know right now if I'm
5 talking softly or I'm talking too loud, and so a
6 lot of times I would be talking loud, and I can't
7 even, you know -- but that's beside the point. I
8 never talked, you know, about people's, you know,
9 I forgot what it was -- body parts, and it was 10 just, I mean, and it really concerned me. To 11 this day I asked my staff -- it has been like a
12 year now, guys. I swear I'm obviously over it.
13 Did I do this? Please, if I did I want to know,
14 and they said, no, you didn't. You didn't do
15 this, Marc, and so I mean I just -- and then I
16 was told if I didn't sign this paper that I would
17 -- that they will consider it my voluntary
18 resignation.

19 Q. Was this the first time termination or 20 your leaving the Red Cross ever discussed?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. First of all, have you ever seen an 23 investigative report concerning you?

24 A. They said I -- I asked for it, and they
25 said if I wanted to see it -- Bob Browning said

Marc Jackson

1 if I wanted to see it, the only way I would be
2 allowed to see it, is if I filed a lawsuit
3 against the Red Cross. His exact words were
4 "That is your right as an American." I said I
5 really don't want to do that. He said well,
6 you're going to have to sign the report. I can't

7 do because it's not -- it's not telling the 8 truth.

9 Q. Would it be a fair statement your
10 reputation is very important to you?

11 A. Yes, of course.

12 Q. And you've worked very hard for your 13 reputation?

14 A. Right.

15 Q. And your subordinates have shared with 16 you that they felt like they had a good working
17 relationship with you as of 2006?

18 A. Correct.

19 Q. And when the people came to you and said
20 that HR was twisting their words, did you observe
21 any affect on morale?

22 A. Oh absolutely, absolutely.

23 Q. Do you know who was conducting this
24 investigation?

25 A. Barbara Kay.

Marc Jackson

1 Q. Would you like to see that report, if
2 you could?

3 A. Absolutely.

4 Q. Would you have any objection on privacy
5 grounds of it was requested?

6 A. No. Because and I don't mean this --
7 seriously, I mean, I want to improve myself and 8 if I did this stuff, I want to know about it, but 9 they gave me one situation. They said that I was 10 screaming at somebody. It wasn't me screaming at 11 the person and my whole staff was going -- that 12 wasn't you. You were there trying to break it
13 up. It was so absolutely absurd, you know, but 14 they said that I was the one that was involved in 15 it. And I go, you know, then even if you're 16 worried about me, like, going after these people,
17 which I'd never do, then retrack it. You know, 18 black out the names of the people who
19 supposedly -- but, you know, I mean if people are 20 making allegations, they should be -- a person
